

BASF opens dispersions plant in China

Released on 04/01/13

German firm BASF officially opened in Dec 2012 a new dispersions plant within Daya Bay Petrochemical Industrial Park in Huizhou, China. The firm will manufacture styrene butadiene dispersions, mainly used as coating binders for paper, and styrene acrylic dispersions, used in paint and coatings, printing and packaging, construction materials and adhesives, at the new facility. Original Source: European Paint and Resin News,

Source PRA