

Taiwan's CPC eyes RFCC turnaround at end-April 2013

Released on 06/12/12

Taiwan's CPC Corp is eyeing a turnaround at its new residual fluid catalytic cracker (RFCC) at its Dalin refinery at the end of April 2013, a company source said on Thursday. The turnaround will take place at end-April and the shutdown will last around two months, the source said. The new RFCC was started up in early November this year and can produce 400,000-450,000 tonnes/year of propylene.
