

BASF's crop protection fungicide Initium approved in EU

RELEASED ON 14/02/13 (DD/MM/YY)

German chemicals group BASF SE (ETR:BAS) said today its Initium fungicide for specialty crops was approved for use in crop protection products in the European Union (EU).

The official approval follows initial launches of Initium in select countries in Europe, North and South America.

Initium is a selective fungicide that provides reliable and flexible control against a range of downy mildews and late blights in grapes, vegetables, potatoes and other specialty crops.
