

Thai MMA to shut No 1 MMA line in mid-March for maintenance

DATE : 2014-02-22

Thai MMA plans to shut its 90,000 tonne/year No 1 methyl methacrylate (MMA) line in Map Ta Phut in mid-March for scheduled maintenance, a company source said on Friday.

The plant is expected to be offline for about a month until mid-April, the source added.

Thai MMA also runs a separate 90,000 tonne/year line at the same site.

The company is a joint venture between Japan's Mitsubishi Rayon Corp (MRC) and Thailand's Siam Cement Group.
