

Styrene plant in Louisiana restarted by Westlake

DATE : 2014-01-29

Westlake Chemical has restarted its styrene plant in Louisiana.

A Polymerupdate source in the US informed that the plant restarted late last week. It was shut on January 10, 2014 for maintenance turnaround.

Located at Lake Charles, Louisiana, US, the plant has a production capacity of 570 million lbs/year.

SOURCE PolymerUpdate