

Styrene plant shut by Styrolution for maintenance

DATE : 2013-11-14

Styrolution has shut a styrene plant for maintenance turnaround. A Polymerupdate source in the US informed that the plant was shut last weekend. It is likely to remain off-stream for around two months. Located in Texas City, Texas, the plant has a production capacity of 1 billion lbs/year.

SOURCE PolymerUpdate