DATE : 2016-05-27

China's Huayu Rubber shut down its 100,000 tonne/year butadiene (BD) unit on 26 May because of weak market sentiment, a company source said on Friday.

The restart date has not been fixed yet, the source said.

The plant was restarted in late April after prolonged shutdown, according to an earlier story from ICIS.

The plant is located at Heze, eastern Shandong province.
