

ACN line planned to be shut by Shanghai Petrochemical

DATE : 2015-01-19

Sinopec subsidiary Shanghai Petrochemical is in plans to shut an acrylonitrile (ACN) line for maintenance turnaround.

A Polymerupdate source in China informed that the line is planned to be shut on January 20, 2015 owing to mechanical issues. However, a restart date for the line could not be ascertained.

Located in Shanghai, China, the line has a production capacity of 130,000 mt/year.
