

IMCD and Campine extend partnership for flame retardant masterbatches

Date: 2014, November 25

IMCD and Campine extend partnership for flame retardant masterbatches

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands (25 November, 2014) – IMCD N.V. and Campine N.V. announce the extension of their distribution partnership for flame retardant masterbatches into Spain. This agreement is a complementary addition to IMCD's compounders and converters product portfolio and consolidates Campine's distribution network in Europe. Campine has been delivering expertise and a reliable service to its customers in the non-ferrous and plastics industry since 1912 and is a global specialist in flame retardant masterbatch solutions. Marc Liegeois, Campine Business Manager Plastics, comments: "IMCD has represented Campine's flame retardant masterbatches for more than 10 years in the Nordics, South East Europe and Poland. Together, we hope to replicate this success and significantly increase our sales activities in existing and new regions." Stefan Hansson, IMCD Product Manager Plastics Sweden, adds: "This is a very exciting opportunity for IMCD to build on its existing partnership with Campine and enhance our services to the plastics market. As Campine recently reorganised its masterbatch division, it seemed the opportune time to begin to consolidate and develop the business."

Source: IMCD website