

Roles description

Presentation of the roles of the Analytical Module :

Roles : Analytical Module	DESCRIPTION
Requester	Requester can be external or internal. This role is allowed to create new request, enter related samples, submit request to analysts. The Requester receive an email when the report linked to the request he submitted is published. They can see this report in OneLims.
Requester Poweruser	Same as Requester + Possibility to add an analytical method to his samples
Lab user (Analyst)	An Lab User is an analyst that works in the lab and who will perform the analysis. They can accept a request, receive and assign tests, create a worksheet and write Reports.
Lab Supervisor	Same as Lab user (Analyst) + Possibility to cancel the tests, samples and requests
Lab Manager	Same as Lab Supervisor + Access to the activity Dashboard and KPIs

Presentation of the roles of the Equipment Module :

Roles : Equipment Module	DESCRIPTION
Equipment Reader	This role can see Equipment of his default location, they can't modify it They can book some equipment and create interventions The equipment reader can't schedule interventions
Equipment Manager	This role can see equipment of his default location and modify equipment of his organization They can book some equipment, create interventions and schedule interventions
Global Equipment Manager	The Global Equipment Manager gives permission to transverse users like HSE or Facilities to edit all equipment of his default location whatever his organization This role can book some equipment, create interventions and schedule interventions

Presentation of the roles of the Chemical Module :

Roles : Chemical Module	DESCRIPTION
Inventory Reader	This role can see all chemical references and products They can only see batches and fractions of his default location They can not create anything, but just open and put to waste a fraction
Inventory User	This role can see all chemical references and products The inventory user can create and manage batches & fractions of his default location
Inventory Manager	This role can create chemical references and products and submit for approval to the HSE Manager of his site They can create and manage batches & fractions of his default location They have as well access to the inventory menu The inventory manager can not modify a chemical reference or a product already approved

Reception Manager	This role can handle the reception of batch & fractions
HSE Manager	This role can create chemical references and products They can approve or reject the creation of the chemical references and products They can as well create and manage batches & fractions of his default location The HSE manager have access to the inventory menu