

Release Template

The release template is communicated to the Data Ops team before every move to prod, and contains the various steps required to push the project to the pre-production and production environments.

The latest release template is found in this folder :