Investigation

1

Since John is part of a Queue that is the new Owner on the Investigation phase he should 'pick up' the Complaint for himself (meaning that he should be the new Owner of the Complaint) in order to:

Allow the other members of the Queue to know that John is working on the Complaint and remove the Complaint from the Queue scope

Be added automatically to the Case Team as the Investigator

John have two ways of transfer the ownership from his Queue to himself:

Accept the Complaint from the Queue List View

Or, open the Complaint record page and manually change the Owner to himself by clicking the 'Change' button next to the Owner Name

1 Accept the Complaint from

2 Open the Complaint record page and click the 'Change' button next to the Owner Name

2

• Once John is the new Owner, he can open the Complaint, click on Edit and scroll down to the Investigation section to start filling the Investigation information.

3

 - Compliance: Flag if guidelines have been breached.
 - Insurance: Indicate that the insurance has been informed about the case.

Assignee Notification

- John's GBU has implemented a rule that the new Owner should be a specific User as the Commercial Assignee for this Complaint criteria.
- Once John has completed the Investigation part, he can update the Status to Under Review.
- The User or Queue in charge is notified by an email. A notification flow sends an email to the appropriate assignee to inform him that the status was changed and that further action is needed.
- The Case Team Members and the Solvay Contacts that are selected to be notified when the Status is changed to Under Review are also notified.
- Additionally, if John would like to manually assign the Complaint to a particular Colleague or to one of the Queues available on the System, she should click the Change button next to her name and select a value on the screen.

- These notifications are meant for users who need to take action on the Complaint. Other users can always consult the Complaint or the Reports if they want additional visibility.
- Well Done David ! The Complaint is created and a notification has been sent to the Investigator to inform him that he can begin the Investigation.
- * Make sure you select the flag 'Send Notification Email' in order for the new Owner to receive the notification
