

App Lab Booster (ALB) - Data

This is a list of key document outlined to be important for this project.

Product Overview

Brief description of the application with key contact, objectives, description, link, roles and responsibilities, product id card.

Link to document

Onboarding

This page allows new team member to know what is require for the Dev environment.

Link to document

Data Ops

This page is dedicated to the operational processes related to data. DataOps is a set of practices, processes and technologies that combines an integrated and process-oriented perspective on data.

Link to document

Release Notes

This page describes the changes for each release. It can be a link to the Jira or a simple release note page.

Link to document

Norms, Conventions, Templates

This page is dedicated to all norms and conventions defined for use for Lab Booster

Link to document

Data Development

This page gives overview on whole design of the application involves with. Interaction with External Application will also be reflected here. This also present all technical specifications as data mapping and flows specifications when necessary.

Link to document

Environment and Tooling

This page provides the detail of each tool and environment used. It focus on the framework, application configuration, environment and features.

Link to document

How to Guides

This page provides guides and procedures

Link to document

Project Life

This page presents information related to Lab Booster Project life.

Link to document