

Datalake for Silica (DFS)

This is a list of key document outlined to be important for this project.

Product Overview

Brief description of the application with key contact, objectives, description, link, roles and responsibilities, product id card.

Link to document

Technical Specification

This page has all technical specifications and flows specifications when necessary

Link to document

Onboarding

This page allows new team member to know what is required for the Dev environment.

Link to document

Release Notes

This document describe the changes for each release. It can be a link to the Jira or a simple release note page.

Link to document

Architecture Overview

This document gives overview on whole design of the application involves with. Interaction with External Application will also be reflected here.

Link to document

Software Architecture

This document provide the detail description of each layer of the applications implemented. It focus on the framework, design rationale, user access control list, application configuration, environment and features.

Link to document

Operational

This document provide the definition of the roles for this project. It also has a list of tools used for the CI/CD.

Link to document